

September 22, 2012

Activision Incorporated
3100 Ocean Park Blvd.
Santa Monica, Ca. 90405

To whom it may concern:

I am currently a junior attending Foshay Learning Center, at my school I am a member of the Technology Academy. Foshay is college preparatory high school but in our academies we also learn the basic skills required for all careers. Those skills are the most important for us to learn because they prepare us for any profession. In my academy we have created two dimensional animations using Adobe Flash, which I believe might help with some of the animations used for video games. I am a fan of your Call of Duty video game series and will enjoy the opportunity to have an insight on the making of the company's video games. I also would like to schedule an informational interview about the company and maybe even an opportunity for job shadow from one of the employees. If you are interested you can find my resume, digital portfolio, and examples from my work in Adobe Flash on the link below.

<http://joseclimaco.weebly.com/>

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jose Climaco

Email: joserc55@gmail.com